WOMEN CARING FOR THE LAND: conservations conversations

Are you a woman farmland owner? Would you like to learn more about caring for your land and protecting your investment? Renewing the Countryside and the Sustainable Farming Association invite you to attend one of the following free workshops, conducted in partnerships with the Women, Food & Ag Network.

Stillwater - Thursday, Sept. 26, 8:30-11 a.m.

Stillwater Public Library, Margaret Rivers B Room, 224 3rd St N, Stillwater (3rd St entrance)

Why attend? We'll discuss new practices that enhance and sustain soil—and other natural resources—as well as improve your bottom line. Learn about strategies for talking to and working with tenant farmers and management companies, including how to incorporate conservation into lease agreements. Agriculture and natural resource professionals from various agencies will share information and resources to help you reach your goals.

These events are free and open to all and include refreshments. For more info contact us at: 507.766.9159, theresa@sfa-mn.org
